

Project Manager - Real World Data for people with Cystic Fibrosis

Cystic Fibrosis Europe, the federation of national Cystic Fibrosis (CF) organisations in Europe, and muco.be, the Belgian CF patient organisation, are looking for a skilled project manager to lead our innovative Real World Data (RWD) project in Belgium.

CF Europe and muco.be are joining together to form this European level project, piloted in Belgium, aimed at putting the patient at the centre of their data collection to improve access to treatments, to provide the best possible healthcare, and improve their quality of life.

Are you a specialist in (health) data and intrigued by how data can change the lives of people and improve the quality of life for patients? Are you interested in shaping an ecosystem by working together with all stakeholders in the health data space? Then contact us, this project is the challenge you are looking for.

The successful candidate will be working across sectors, with people with CF, patient organisations, Government officials, researchers, and tech experts within Belgium, as well as European level stakeholders. This is an exciting opportunity to join a passionate, international team.

What we expect from you:

Experience of working in the Belgian healthcare setting

Experience with digital health solutions and data environments

Open to new ways of working and ideas around health care data generation, use and management

Good communication skills in English and Dutch or French, knowledge of the other language is an asset.

Project management experience, working with a range of stakeholders at all levels

Self-starter with track record in meeting deadlines

What we offer:

1-year, full time contract with a split of 50% work on the national Belgian level, 50% work on the European level. There is a possibility of extending the contract if the project continues.
